VERY IMPORTANT MEETING.

The Adath Yeshurun Congregation will hold its monthly meeting Sunday, January 30. All members are requested to be present as a report of the financial conditions of the Congregation will be presented for ratification or rejection.

MEETING OF ZIONISTS.

A joint meeting of Herzl Zion Society and Sons and Daughters of Zion was held last Sunday afternoon at the Adath Yeshurun hall and was exceptionally well attended. The president of Herzl Zion Society, Mr. P. Blumenthal called the meeting to order, and was addressed in the following order: By Miss Esther Ast, reading the paper prepared for the Texas Zionist meeting recently held at San Antonio; Abe Gordon, an address in Yiddish which was greatly applauded; P. Blumenthal, giving an account of the State convention at San Antonio and holding up the unity and activity of the Fort Worth Zionists and especially the untiring and fruitful efforts of Dr. Chas. Blumenthal of the same place as an example to be emulated. Next was a very amusing recitation by Mr. Freeman, which was followed by the final address in Yiddish by H. B. Liebermann, which was an exhortation for the continued efforts of the society for the cause of Zionism and was replete with references to Scriptural and Talmudic teachings.

IMPERIAL GRAND THEATRE.

The Imperial Grand Theatre, under the management of Messrs. Smilowitz and Swartz, is taking its place in the front rank of houses of amusement in our city. The bill they put on equals that of houses where the price of admission is five times as much. The bill for this week consists of Miss Marie Watson, an excellent male impersonator; Carver & Oliver, presenting a side-splitting playlet entitled, "Tamed;" Moredock & Watson, in some fine novelty music work which in connection with their gags make them second to none. However much their act was appreciated, its fineness was lessened by their "Jew's Best" joke, which we hope will be eliminated. Doc Emmett's dogs are a show in themselves, and the bill alone would be worth more to witness than the price of admission asked. Our coreligionists are acknowledged to be the most frequent attendants at theaters and we are sure that if the present high standard is maintained they will become habitués of this new theatre. Admission 10 cents.

The management announces a special children's candy matinee for Saturday afternoon at which every child will be admitted for 5 cents and be given a bag of candy free.

J. L. S. HIKE.

The Jewish Literary Society's Hikers' Club had its first Hike Sunday afternoon. The route was to Brunner via Houston Electric Co., thence to Rural Retreat via Eureka, a total distance of about eight miles. The club started from Brunner end of car line at two sharp, arriving at Rural Retreat at three-thirty, set about stowing away about a hundred sandwiches provided for the occasion. This was no small task for twenty-two Hikers but with the assistance of some pure spring water they were soon stowed in the hollow places of the Hikers, some of whom stood up in order that the sandwiches might penetrate to the toes and give a better footing on the homeward journey. After the lunch the party enjoyed an hour taking kodak pictures and then came the homeward journey, the only guide being the sun, moon and stars. All had an enjoyable time and hope to be at the next hike some time early in February. Those who enjoyed this outing were Misses Ola Goldberg, Bertha Westheimer, Elsie Westheimer, Elsie Tiras, Irma Tiras, Hadey Tiras, Maude Deutschner, Bettie Levine, Gertrude Landa, Mrs. R. Gale. Messrs. H. J. Dannenbaum, S. J. Westheimer, J. L. Aronson, Isadore Tiras, Joe Finger, Otto Tiras, J. Tiras, Max Karkowski, Chas. Greenberg, J. Phillipowski, Ben Hurwitz and master Joe Dannenbaum.
